FAQs :

How will the registration process work?

Registration takes place on the day of the show, starting up to 3 hours prior to showtime. Registration closes at showtime. Each eligible person will present their valid government ID to the event staff if requested, then complete a registration card with their name and numerical day of birth (1-31). The registration card is dropped into the designated container. Ticket purchase is not required to register to be a contestant and will not be considered a factor in the random selection process.

Will people be able to register before the night of the show?

Unfortunately no. Registration will open 3 hours prior to each show.

Will people be able to register more than one person at a time?

All eligible contestants wishing to register must present themselves in person and show a valid government I.D. if requested.

Do people need to be there before the show in order to register?

Early registration allows contestants to avoid longer lines. Registration will stay open until the posted show time. It is not necessary for people to stay at the theatre once they register. The only requirement is that they be back at the theatre by showtime.

How do lucky winners collect their prizes if they win?

Winners return to the stage after the show to complete the necessary paperwork. Prizes are sent directly to the winner's residence.

How are contestants selected for each show?

All contestants are selected entirely at random from among everyone registered.

How old do you have to be to register?

You must be 18 years of age or older to be eligible to register to become a contestant.

Can you still go to the show if you are under age?

Absolutely. Anyone can buy tickets and watch the show. It's often a family affair, however only those 18 years of age or older can be eligible to be a contestant.

Who will be the host?

Hosts are well-known television and game show personalities. Check your local theater for announcement information.
